Our Products & Services [2] section will provide you with a comprehensive look at our allograft portfolio: from Sports Medicine to Spine, to Plastic and Reconstructive Surgical Services, Dental, Craniomaxillofacial, Cardiac, Vascular and General Orthopedics and Trauma grafts to ensure you have the right graft for the right procedure.

The safety and quality of allograft bio-implants are critical to physicians and their patients. As a leading regenerative medicine company, LifeNet Health has developed a full suite of technologies to ensure these needs are met with every bio-implant we provide. We pride ourselves on our level of public education and, perhaps most importantly, to the relationships we have with hospitals, funeral homes, medical examiners and public safety departments. Our hospital development staff offer many relevant and unique, Continuing Education programs to keep you educated, informed and inspired. We'll even come to you, if that's more convenient. As the need for the highest quality tissue has grown, we have grown to meet that need. Our full-service processing and distribution facilities on the East and West Coasts make us better equipped to offer our services and level of quality to even more donor families, recipients, surgeons, clinicians and hospitals, coast to coast and around the world.

But our efforts and outreach don't stop there. We have formed strong relationships with partners in countries around the world including Spain, Italy, Korea, Colombia, India and Brazil to help us to meet the global demand for tissue as well as provide tools including surgical technique guides, product videos, clinical compendiums and more.

LifeNet Health's mission of saving lives, restoring health, and giving hope is global. But, we approach it one country, one city, one community, one patient at a time. To learn more about our International presence, please visit our International Division [5] section.
